

History at Eversley

"The more you know about the past, the better prepared you are for the future."
Theodore Roosevelt.

History is vital to a rich and broad primary education. It helps pupils to make sense of the present as well as the past, and to appreciate the complexity and diversity of human societies and development.

Tim Jenner HMI, Ofsted 2021

At Eversley Primary School we promote positive attitudes and enthusiasm for History by firing pupil's curiosity about the past in Britain and the wider world. We ensure children understand how the past influences the present and what past societies were like. Our aim is for all children to leave Eversley Primary School with a range of knowledge, skills and abilities, using historical terms to explain about the past and making comparisons to the present day.

During EYFS at Eversley

The early learning goals at EYFS are very much focused on the memories of the child.

When learning about people and communities it may be that they are asked to remember a special event or routine or custom for their family. They may talk about differences between different family members or different generations.

Understanding the world involves guiding children to make sense of their physical world and their community through opportunities to explore, observe and find out about people, places, technology and the environment.

During Key Stage 1 at Eversley

Pupils will learn how to look for similarities and differences between life today and in the past and use common words associated with the passing of time.

They will study the lives and lifestyles of familiar people in the recent past and learn about famous people and events in the more distant past, including those from British history.

They will talk and write about things that happened and why people acted as they did.

Pupils will find out about the past using different sources of information and representations.

Each unit will be centred around "The Big Question"; a question that runs through the theme of the topic. When the topic has been completed the children will have an opportunity to answer that question independently using all the information that they have learnt. E.g. Year 1 – Who was more important William Caxton or Neil Armstrong? Why?

Each year group will also undertake a local history study whereby children will be given an opportunity to explore the rich and diverse history on our doorstep.

During Key Stage 2 at Eversley

In this key stage, pupils commence with our chronologically mapped curriculum starting with the Stone Age and Neolithic periods.

Our KS2 curriculum is carefully mapped so that knowledge develops chronologically up to Y6.

Pupils in lower KS2 will find out about people and ways of life from ancient times and civilisations. They will develop a sense of the ancient world and the achievements across the globe, making comparisons where relevant.

In upper KS2 they will learn about different aspects of British and local history and discuss how and why things happened or changed and the legacies we see in life today.

Across the Key Stage, pupils will learn to appreciate the contribution different societies have made to the world. This is linked to their own identities and that of our diverse community. They will learn how to carry out historical enquiries using a variety of sources of information and look at how and why the past is interpreted in different ways. Pupils will develop and deepen their understanding of chronology and of important concepts that impact on our world today, such as civilisation, slavery, trade, empires, democracy, rulers and settlement as they go through the key stage.
